MICH. LEGISLATIVE NEWS LETTER

Michigan Press Association, Lansing Bureau

Providing in the closing hours for the Hospital building and rehabilitation program which has been a bone of controversy all during the session, the legislature of 1929 wound up its affairs Wednesday night at 9:30 and adjourned sine die. Appropriation bills will make a new record of high taxes for Michigan, but that was unavoidable if the long neglected institutions of Michigan are to be even moderately modernized. Members of the legislature as well as all the people of the state fully realize that it is imperative that state hospitals have more buildings and that old buildings must be repaired and made usable. With every such institution in the state seriously overcrowded and with hundreds of patients on the waiting list, the present condition is nearly if not all of these institutions is a disgrace to Michigan. The program as outlined will cover four years of building and repairing, the most pressing needs to be taken care of first and the others to follow as rapidly as is humanly possible. Members realize that in making appropriations for this purpose for a longer period than two years they were going beyond their present term of office, but realizing that the legislature of 1931 may change the program, they felt they were right in instituting the program and getting it under way without further delay.

The final action of Senate and House removed the proposition for a mill tax, as proposed in the Hartman bill changing it to direct appropriations. The bill as passed by both houses calls for an institutional tax of $6,040,000 for 1930; $3,880,000 of which is for hospital purposes, and the 1931 figures total $5,717,300 of which $4,287,300 is for hospital purposes. The figures for 1932 and 1933 are still higher, being $7,429,500 for 1932 and $7,840,500 for 1933, but of course these figures may be changed by the next legislature.

The only call of the House for this session was made on this bill, on the demand of Representative Gus Hartman, author of the bill. The call brought in, however, not more than half a dozen members who were outside the bar of the House when the measure came up for final action, and the vote on the bill, concurring in amendments made in the Senate after a report of a conference committee, was 75 for the bill to 17 against. The members voting against the proposition were representatives Calvert, Coleman, Clarence Dacey, Vincent Dacey, DeLang, Espie, Goodwine, Hall, Harnly, Holland, Kistler, MacDonald, Miller, Snow, Watson, William and Wilson.

Among the last hour activities were the passing of the malt tax bill and the killing of the medical "basic science" bill, both of which have been subject to much controversy. The osteopath bill, however, giving the osteos the right to examine and board, went through both houses and is in the hands of the governor.

Another last-minute measure saw the passing of the so-called "garment" bill, which has been extensively lobbied for and against. The bill as finally passed does not change the provisions of the present law except to provide that the plaintiff must furnish the address or the "shop number" of the defendant, which will enable the large employer of labor to identify the particular John Jones or Sam Smith from among the dozens of that name which might be in his employ, which is fair enough.

The capital punishment measure was called back this week to correct an error which might have let murderers escape any penalty prior to (Continued on last page)

High School Wins Another
Friday afternoon the Grayling High School extended their wins to two straight by beating the St. Joe outfit to the tune of 17 to 4.

DeVere Schmidt did a good job of flinging for Grayling during the first five innings and turned back the St. Joe sluggers with seven hits. He was relieved by Sheehy who turned in a fine card. With the bases loaded Sheehy rose to his best and struck the next three batters out.

Artman and Straus pitched good ball for the losers but were handicapped by poor support.

Straus, for St. Joe, got a home run inside the park.

The lineups were as follows:

Grayling	Position	Ab	R	H	E
Sherman	CF	5	3	4	1
Pond	3rd	4	1	2	0
Post	2nd	4	4	4	0

Stop! Look! and Listen! If you have a problem which you wish to have solved, just bring it to Miss Estee's American History class, preferably the first one, and I am sure that our class "debaters" will "thresh the matter out to a fare-you-well." It is generally understood that every little detail must be argued out and various other discussions in addition to these must be brought up to keep the class "pepped up." At least, it makes the class interesting and everyone enjoys it the more for the talks they have.

We are wondering just how many Babe Ruths we have on the G. H. S. baseball squad. If there are not any such distinguished players, they seem to have a team that can hold its own, and we are much encouraged by the fine playing in the Grayling-St. Joe game in which the boys did their part and beat St. Joe with a score of 17 to 4. Good work boys!

The Chemistry class enjoyed the talks that Mr. Smith, who was a visitor from Ypsilanti last week, gave them on the interesting subject of Colloids. Visitors are always welcome in our Chemistry class—providing we all have our lessons—and with Miss Lewis as our teacher you should enjoy visiting the class. Who knows but what you might get some pointers as to why clothes do not soil so easily if they are starched, why it is that such a tempting dessert as jello may be formed from powder, and various other interesting things.

Woman's Club Entertains At Assembly
Last week, being National Music Week, the Woman's Club entertained

1—Balloons starting from Pittsburgh in elimination race that was won by the navy bag No. 1. 2—Col. Walter C. Cole of Detroit elected president of the National Reserve Officers' association. 3—Twenty thousand Chicago Poles celebrating Kosciuszko day before the statue of the Polish-American hero in Humboldt park.

the students with a delightful musical program at the regular high school assembly.

The grade children were also invited to the entertainment. This is the first time this year that the high school and grades have enjoyed an assembly together. The children were well pleased with the program, and we all look forward to having them with us again sometime.

Prizes were given to the two pupils who handed in the best account of the musical selections given. Jean Peterson, was the winner of the grade prize, and Corrine Sheldon, the high school prize.

The program is as follows:
Victrola—Song of Love, sung by Lucy March and Royal Dadmun.
Waltzing Doll, played by Victor Concert Orchestra.

Mrs. Tetu—At Dawning. Thinking of you.
Victrola—To a Wild Rose, played by Chicago Symphony Orchestra.
Star Eyes, sung by Mabel Garrison.
By the Waters of Minnetonka, played by Renee Chemet. (Legend read by Mr. Hill.)

Miss Quackenbush—Dream Train.

Mr. Hill—It's Up To You. My Inspiration Is You. That's What I Call Keen.

Victrola—On the Road To Mandalay, sung by Reinald Werenrath. Mrs. Giegling and Miss Quackenbush were the accompanists.

Girl Scout Notes
Last Tuesday evening, at the regular meeting of the Scout troop, the girls were given their Tenderfoot badges as a mark of having successfully passed the first tests required of a Girl Scout. Miss Lewis, as captain, and Annabel Harris, as first lieutenant, presented the badges, at a very impressive ceremony. Before the close of the meeting, Miss Lewis delivered a short talk, impressing on all the great significance and importance of living up to the rules of a true Girl Scout.

Two weeks ago Tuesday, the Scouts enjoyed a picnic and marshmallow roast at Beaver Island. This was the first outing that the girls have had thus far.

Scholastic News
Last Thursday and Friday state inspectors visited school to consider Grayling's chances for remaining on the University list for the school year, 1929-1930. Both admitted being pleased with the school in general.

Where are all the black eyes coming from? Two have been discovered in the past week. Information can be secured from two experienced people, Elmer Fenton and Billy McLeod. Billy declares his was an accident, but what about Elmer? And are we to believe Billy?

Sidelights On Friday's Game
If West Branch had a few more hitters like Straus in their lineup they might do damage to outfield fences in the future. His hit was one of the longest seen in the park in a long time.

The Grayling team came to life with a bang in the fourth and chased Artman to the showers with an eight run barrage. This kind of offense stamps them as championship contenders.

There were a number of errors on the Grayling record but with such an offensive advantage the team could not be expected to play a tight defense.

The members of the French II class were required to read a French story and write a synopsis of it in French for their lesson Friday.

The members of the senior class had their pictures taken April 29th by a man from the Camp Publishing Company, Ypsilanti. They received the proofs of the pictures and two finished pictures as examples of the work last Thursday. All are well satisfied with their pictures.

CRAWFORD SHOWS INCREASE IN SEAL SALES

Crawford county is one of 28 counties in Michigan to show an increase in the proceeds of the 1928 Christmas seal sale over the previous year's sale, figures prepared by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association show.

A total of $145.46 has been reported from the county, representing $12.90 more than was raised in 1927. The report for the entire state shows that $241,865.14 was subscribed in the 1928 sale through the combined efforts of the State Association and 27 county tuberculosis societies.

Funds raised in the recent seal sale made possible the April "Early Diagnosis of Tuberculosis Campaign," and will be used by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association to finance an extensive series of free chest clinics during the summer months.

The Real Murderer

There is a ringing line in the sayings of Jesus which we need to remember. It reads: "Fear not them who kill the body, but fear them who kill the soul."

Supposing we forget the fact of our own personal concern in this matter—forget that we are the one to be killed in this way, and instead examine ourselves to see if we are guilty of first-degree murder.

For there is no murder so brutal as that which kills a man's reputation and influence, both of which are sacred.

Each day it seems, we are witnessing foul murders being committed before our very eyes. Men murder their brothers by insinuations which are like arsenic in that it is hard to establish positive guilt. "A half-truth can be the worst kind of lie."

In these days, when some seem to get such a sheer delight out of exposing others, suppose we examine ourselves. Perhaps the old Bible scene would be re-enacted, and we would hear the Master say to us: "Let him that is without sin cast the first stone," and there would be no stones thrown.
Moral: "I will not listen to gossip."

IS PROUD OF OLD HOME TOWN

The Avalanche, May 8, 1929

Dear friends:
Am sending money for the Avalanche. I surely can't do without it. Surely feel proud of the "old town" to think they're going to do so much paving and repairing. We won't know it. Who said Grayling was slow? I boost it from this end all I can.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Ernest DuVall,

IMMIGRATION PROBLEM

President Goethe of Immigration Study Commission, who is overseas, sent this letter to his Sacramento office with instructions that it be signed and forwarded to newspapers generally.

Casablanca, Morocco, May 7, 1929.

Editor, Crawford Avalanche, Grayling, Mich.

Dear Sir:

Africa's Mediterranean ports, once pirate strongholds, are where American crime waves often begin. The narrow streets of the native quarters long have sheltered the acum of South Europe, of the Levant. Periodic police roundups here were followed by optional "Jail or America." Such passports to New York have saved European taxpayers millions. Thus we drained the criminals from a low-power population mass whose beginnings run back to the dregs of the old Roman Empire.

The origin of these cutthroats who become our bootleggers, vicemasters, narcotic venders, gangsters, make nasty reading. Slave-hungry Rome for centuries was the cesspool of the socially inadequate of Africa, Asia Minor. Even many highpower Romans crossed their blood with slave concubines. The present day descendants of these show in gangster lists of Chicago, New York.

Differential birth rates constitute the danger herein. Consider the one immigrant who applied to an American shelter for charity for his 33 daughters and sons. Should this 33 rate continue, he will become progenitor of 1089 grandchildren. His competitor, the old-stock Anglo-Saxon-American father, who finds he must hustle to feed, clothe and educate his brood of 3, can expect at his 3 rate, 9 grandbabies. 1089 to 9 is, of course an extreme case. Any one, however, who will project forward the differential birth rates of, say, even an 8-child Mediterranean and a 2-child Nordic family will obtain results positively disconcerting. The Great War's mental tests showed our intelligent citizenry comes overwhelmingly from Northwestern Europe. We must perfect the Immigration Quota Act herein.

Very earnestly,
Immigration Study Commission.
By A. J. Knight, Secretary.

MARRIAGES AND DIVORCES

The records show that 22 marriages were consummated in Crawford county during the year 1928 as compared with 23 for the year 1927. Four divorces were granted in the county last year and twelve in 1927.

According to the returns received, there were 37,300 marriages performed in Michigan during the year 1928, as compared with 36,276 in 1927, representing an increase of 1,024 or 2.8 per cent. In 1916, there were 40,112 marriages reported.

During the year 1928 there were 10,538 divorces granted in the state, as compared with 10,525 in 1927, representing an increase of 8 or one-tenth of one per cent. In 1916, there were 5,327 divorces granted. There were 33 marriages annulled in 1928, as compared with 36 in 1927.

The estimated population of the State of Michigan on July 1, 1928, was 4,591,000, and on July 1, 1927, 4,490,000. On the basis of these estimates, the number of marriages per 1,000 of the population was 8.12 in 1928, as against 8.08 in 1927; and the number of divorces per 1,000 of the population was 2.29 in 1928, as against 2.34 in 1927.

WHERE POPPY PROFITS GO

Yes, the war is over for most of us, but is it over for everyone? How about the men in the hospitals? Many of them have been there ever since the war, many of them will never leave the hospitals. These men enlisted in the prime of life—they had their aspirations, some were in the midst of college courses when their country called; they were studying to be doctors, lawyers, engineers; others had just started out in business for themselves; most of them were wage earners, and now they spend their days in the hospitals throughout the land. They are not downhearted—the atmosphere of cheer pervades the Government hospitals, and facing this disappointment in the fulfillment of their dreams they still can smile.

These are our heroes! Must we have the tread of marching feet, the cheers of the watching throngs to recognize them? We cheered them when they marched away, we cheered them when they came back to us—who cheers them now?

The American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary and other service organizations are cheering them through their service programs. And thus the army of those who have not forgotten provides the sunshine of thoughtfulness for the service men and women in the hospitals.

Birthdays are not forgotten, Christmas is a big day in the hospitals, Easter and Mother's Day carry with them greetings from those who are remembering.

Each year the American Legion Auxiliary holds a poppy sale with its double mission—to remind the public that the war is not yet over for many, and to raise funds for local relief work for the service men and women and their families. Buy a poppy when you are called upon.

The American Legion Auxiliary in order to protect its Memorial Flower, the poppy, from the inroads of commercialism, adopted a National Poppy Program at the Fourth Annual Convention in 1924 which eliminates the commercial poppy from the sales supply of the Auxiliary and that only poppies made by the needy and disabled service men and women and by the Auxiliary Units can be sold by the American Legion Auxiliary.

LITTLE LOVELLS GIRL DIES. SISTER LOST IN WOODS

Little Edith Budd, age 10 years and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Budd of Lovells, passed away at Mercy Hospital Friday, where she had been suffering for about a week with an infection in the ankle of her right foot. The infection started from a bruise resulting from being hit on the ankle with a baseball at school. The funeral was held Sunday with services in the afternoon held in the school house. The little girl will be sadly missed in the family circle and also among her schoolmates and friends. Besides the parents, three sisters and two brothers survive, Mrs. Della Clise, Grayling; Margaret, Junior, Clayton and Roy at home.

On the day previous to the little girl's death, the Budd family had a bad scare when their little daughter Margaret 3½ years had come up lost. The little tot had been at a birthday party and in going home got turned around some way and instead of going towards her home had gone the opposite way into the woods. A call to Grayling brought many volunteer searchers and all afternoon and evening the little girl was sought. Finally at about 8:30 in the evening, Kenneth Clise, Neil Matthews and Ray Duby driving along the road saw her lying on the ground. She had become so tired wandering around that she had lain down on the ground and fallen asleep. She awoke when she heard the car and in getting up from the ground the men saw her. She had lost a shoe and stocking off of one of her feet and her little legs were all scratched and bruised. The place where she was found was about two miles from Lovells near a swamp, but it is thought she had walked five miles or more as she had been tracked near the lake there.

FUNERAL OF MRS. ARMEDES CHARRON HELD IN GRAYLING

The remains of Mrs. Minnie Charron, wife of Armedes Charron, who passed away at a hospital in Grayling Friday, were brought to Grayling Monday and taken to the home of Albert Charron. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at St. Mary's church and interment took place in Elmwood cemetery.

Mrs. Charron will be remembered by her girlhood friends as Minnie Malenfant, being a daughter of the late Gilbert Malenfant of this city. She had resided in this county in her younger days and was well known to many.

Mrs. Charron was 49 years old and the mother of six children, all of whom together with the husband survive. Mr. Charron has been residing in Crested Butte, Colorado for years, having gone there for his health and this spring had come to Michigan to visit Mrs. Charron at Newberry. Having returned home to the west just a short time ago, he was unable to get here for the funeral. A daughter, Mrs. Marie Sybert who also resides in Crested Butte, and three sons, Vernon, Leon and Russell who live in Denver did not come for the funeral. However two sons, Clarence and Edward and the former's wife of Trenton, Michigan were present together with Mr. and Mrs. John Parsons of Rogers City, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Charron and Mrs. Ray Murphy of Frederic.

As far as we know Carl Johnson was the first golfer to make an "Eagle" on the local golf course. This he did Sunday while playing hole one. His first shot was a lousy one landing near the bunkers. His second shot was over the bunker and the ball rolled into the hole. For those who may not be familiar with golf terms may we state that the par for the several holes on a course is determined according to the distance between the tee where the player makes his first shot, and the green in which is located the hole. Par on hole one of the Grayling course is four shots. This is made occasionally by local players. Making that hole in three shots is termed a birdie—one under par. Making it in two shots under par is termed an eagle. A few people in the world have the distinction of making a hole in one shot. That is purely luck. Grayling has many good players and we hope that others will equal Mr. Johnson's fine play before the season closes.

Damage amounting to about $200 resulted from a fire that started from the fireplace at the Douglas Hotel, Lovells, early Tuesday evening. Happening so early in the evening it was discovered before it had gained much headway.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Terpening of Augusta, Michigan are occupying the Randolph cottage at Lake Margrethe. U. S. SAILORS SPEND SOME—KEEP SOME

The Department of Commerce, Republic of Panama, estimates that during the visit of the U. S. Fleet in the Canal Zone, a total of 183,000 visits to Panamanian cities were made by sailors from the U. S. Fleet. On each of these visits, souvenirs and other articles were purchased at a cost of between $25.00 and $30.00, so that Panama is some $5,000,000 richer for the visit of the American tars. This does not include purchases made by the Fleet itself from local markets.—Navy News.

STATE PURCHASES 26,500 ACRES IN CHEBOYGAN AND OTSEGO COUNTIES

"With the purchase last week of 26,500 acres of forest lands in Cheboygan and Otsego counties," said Director George R. Hogarth of the conservation department, "forty square miles of territory were added to the Pigeon River State Forest and placed under forest management."

This represents an addition of 138 per cent to the acreage of the Pigeon River Forest, increasing the former total of 19,200 acres of state owned lands to the present holdings of 45,700 acres, and making this one of the largest of the State Forests.

The purchase adds 20 miles of Pigeon River frontage, several small lakes, and a number of trout streams to the Forest. The recently acquired acres consist of good second growth timber and contain excellent game cover.

Forest management operations began in this area in 1919 and have resulted in the reforestation of 5,376 acres, and in the construction of 59 miles of fire lines. A portion of the forest has been set aside for several years as a State Game Refuge. With the exception of this and other refuge areas, the State Forests are public hunting grounds.

Liver and cucumber salad is a good combination. Mix 2 cups of cold chopped broiled liver, ½ a cup of diced cucumber, and ½ a cup of diced celery with mayonnaise dressing, and serve on lettuce leaves.

Celery seed vinegar is good for use in salads and in many other ways. To make it bring 1 pint of vinegar to the boiling point, cool for 5 minutes, and add to ¼ cup of celery seed and ½ tablespoon salt. Let stand two weeks, strain, and bottle.

Tall thin women who want to be well-dressed should have a fullness in their clothing, choose designs with lines that go around the figure and apparently give breadth, accent the outside lines of the figure in decoration—the hips, sleeves, or shoulders—wear flaring lines rather than straight ones, and be sure their clothing fits, as too loose clothes will emphasize their thinness.

To make orange ice for dessert you need 2½ cups of orange juice, ¼ cup lemon juice, ½ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, and 1 egg white. Strain the fruit juices, add the sugar and salt, and stir until the sugar is dissolved. Freeze with a mixture of 1 part salt to 4 to 6 parts of ice. Turn the crank slowly. When partly frozen add the beaten white of egg and turn until firm. Pack in ice and salt for an hour or so before serving.

In choosing dishes and tableware for a child, look for articles that can be managed easily even by a three-year old, who is learning to be self-reliant. A small fork and spoon, a set of individual dishes with a ravy pattern, a pitcher with a good spout that will hold extra milk for him to pour out himself, and a glass that fits his hand, tapering toward the base and spreading at the top, are some of the helps in training a child in independence.

Make no Mistake—there is only one RED CROWN ETHYL!

It is the gasoline that "knocks out that knock"—makes your car eager to get away—hungry for hills—and powerful in hard going.

There are a number of ethyl gasolines on the market but there is only one Red Crown Ethyl. It is made by combining proved, dependable Red Crown gasoline and Ethyl Brand Anti-knock Compound.

Red Crown Ethyl is sweet, clean and fast. All gums, sulphur compounds and other matter which might cause you endless trouble have been eliminated.

To rid gasoline of these harmful agents is expensive but it must be done. Their presence means corroded wrist pins and driving rods, etched cylinders and faulty pistons which call for expensive repairs.

You can buy cheap gasoline but can you afford to use it?

You'll never know what your car can do until you use Red Crown Ethyl. You can get it anywhere. It is sold at as low a price as you can afford to pay for an Ethyl gasoline.

Figures Are Valuable

Only When Accurate Statistics are like knives; they can be used for good or evil, observes Dr. Thurman B. Rice in Hygeia. The commonest sentence heard in debates usually begins: "Statistics prove that..." But Doctor Rice warns that statistics prove nothing except when they have been accurately collected, compiled, interpreted and applied.

In the hands of some devotee of a faddish project a given set of figures may prove or disprove anything. When one hears a speaker quote figures from memory or without giving the source of his information it is time to go home, says Doctor Rice. It is easy to forget whether a certain death rate was 14 per thousand or 14 per hundred thousand.

The unscientific man uses figures to prove what he started out to prove, while the scientist uses them to lead him to the truth.

The Rapacious Pike

The pike's reputation for cruelty and voraciousness is such that it has been popularly dubbed the "water wolf." It is probably, however, that many species of sea fish are equally, if not a great deal more, rapacious.

Large dogfish, congers, pollack, cod and bass are especially ferocious, while halibut will very often seize and kill other large fish. An English angler was "playing" a large conger when a huge halibut swam up to and savagely bit at it—a proceeding that cost the halibut its life, for on it making for the foundered conger a second time the boatman contrived to gaff and haul it aboard.

There have been many examples of pike being found dead, choked by their own species, and these fish not infrequently attack another pike that has been hooked by a fisherman.

Big Bertha

"Big Bertha" had a firing distance of 75 miles. The principle on which this long-distance gun was operated is that if a shell is fired upward at an angle of 55 degrees to the horizontal, and at a high velocity, so that the shell will rise above the dense atmosphere close to the earth's surface and rapidly reach the thin air which exists at a height of ten miles above the earth; then its flight will be practically unimpeded and it will travel a great distance before it falls again. During its flight from the "Big Bertha" the German shell rose to a height of 24 miles, and traveled more than 50 miles of its course in a very thin atmosphere.

Variety in London

Odd conditions are frequently brought to light in connection with the boroughs in London. Often opposite sides of streets are in different boroughs. One pavement will be illuminated by incandescent gas; across the road electric light is used. The dustbins of the "odds" are more frequently emptied than those of the "evens." A child living at No. 41 may attend a school from which No. 42's infants are debarred. And in certain districts it is quite common to see, at the closing hour of a public house on one side of the road, little groups crossing the street to where an extra half-hour's license permits of "just another."

"Corn" or "Maize"

An English writer says: "What a pity it is that we cannot come to some agreement with North America about 'corn' and 'maize.' Corn, with us means wheat. Across the Atlantic it means maize. So when I read, as I have done just now, that paper has been successfully made from 'corn stalks,' I don't know what is meant. On this paper's daily journal has been printed in the state of Kansas. This looks like being a discovery of far-reaching consequence."

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

A little hunger is much better than indigestion for hogs on their journey to market. They should not be fed heavily before being shipped.

Bull calves in the dairy herd can be fed and handled much the same as the heifers, except that it is better to delay weaning until 8 or 10 months of age. If raised on skim milk, bull calves over 3 months old should have a little more grain than heifers. Good-sized bulls are always preferred, and this method of feeding lets them get their best size and development.

Young pullets are very sensitive to strange conditions and objects, and should not be disturbed or moved around from place to place. Pullets intended for laying should be kept by themselves and so handled that they will grow well and be in good laying condition by the middle of the fall. Free range on clean soil and plenty of green feed and shade are essential to good growth.

Don't let the hogs make their own wallow by rooting a mud hole in the lot or pasture. Such a place is a nuisance and is insanitary. Provide a wallow made of concrete, and located in a convenient, shady place in the lot. Clean it and refill with fresh water frequently. Crude oil, enough to form a thin layer on the water, if poured into the wallow about every 10 days, will help to control lice.

Few dairymen with medium or small sized dairy herds can afford to own a first-class purebred bull; but every dairymen can afford to own a share in one. A cooperative dairy-bull association is the best and cheapest way for the small dairymen to obtain the use of a purebred bull to improve his herd. Farmers' Bulletin 1532-F, obtainable from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, gives information on dairy-herd improvement through cooperative bull associations.

Pasturing cut-over land keeps the brush down, causing timber roots to die, and ultimately reduces the cost of stump removal. Goats, sheep, or cattle will do this work for nothing. Goats are natural browsers and will eat twigs and grass in preference to anything else. Sheep must be more closely pastured than goats, so that they will be forced to eat the bushes. On large areas it is necessary to fence the land into small sections, and keep the stock on one section until it has been browsed clean.

Cutting the Farm Woods

The farm woodland owner may be adding to the value of his trees by protecting them and by thinning to give individual trees sufficient room, but he may not be getting full value from the woods unless he practices "selective" cutting, says the Forest Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Selective cutting removes the large mature trees that are most profitable for lumber and leaves the small immature trees to grow and be cut later on. One of the chief advantages of this is that it makes possible the removal of the greatest value with the least volume. For example, in a farm woods having an average stand of sugar-maple trees ranging in size from 9 to 25 inches; the total value of lumber in a 26-inch tree is 36 times that in a 9-inch tree, though the volume is only 19 times as great. No ironclad rule can be given regarding the smallest size of tree to remove, but it is doubtful if trees less than 12 inches in diameter can be cut profitably for lumber.

The trouble with call money at from 15 to 20 per cent is it isn't within call.—Atlanta Constitution.

Does your husband leave this up to you?

If you have the responsibility of looking after the family car, there are some things you ought to know about motor oil. Things which nobody has cared to talk about before.

Oil must meet four requirements, engineers say, if lubrication is to be both complete and correct. Motor oil must provide—

1. LOW CARBON CONTENT
2. NON-FOULING CARBON
3. IDEAL BODY AT ALL OPERATING TEMPERATURES
4. LOW POUR POINT

Thousands of automobile owners have found that there is one oil—Shell Motor Oil—which has all four of these characteristics.

Many otherwise good lubricants leave excessive carbon of a hard, flinty nature. But Shell forms little carbon, 20 to 33 per cent less than most oils.

And the little carbon which it forms is soft, fluffy, non-fouling. It blows away with the exhaust gases.

Shell Motor Oil has ideal body at all operating temperatures. That means it has courage and a fighting heart; it won't break down and cause trouble through long, hard service. You may never need to drive sixty miles an hour, but it's good to know you can with safety to your engine.

And Shell Motor Oil has a low pour point to make starting easy in cold weather.

Regular users of Shell Motor Oil tell of marked reduction in carbon removal jobs. They report amazing trouble-free performance, enjoy lowered operating costs and have fewer repair bills.

The quality which makes such satisfactory performance possible, is due to two things: the selection of the crude petroleum which forms the base of Shell Motor Oil, and the refining process which prepares that crude for use.

Shell's vast oil fields produce a great quantity of crude oil from which Shell selects its lubricating stock. And the refining process developed and used exclusively by Shell, prepares this crude in a very special way. Then Shell Motor Oil passes 259 tests before it is sealed for shipment from the refinery.

STOP AT THE SIGN OF THE SHELL

You'll find courteous attendants who will be glad to drain the crankcase of your car and refill with the right amount and correct grade of Shell Motor Oil. The familiar yellow and red service stations are convenient everywhere.

The trip from Flint was made in an ambulance and she stood the trip fine. Latest reports are that she is some better.

Thieves broke into Wolff's cottage at Lake Margrethe taking a quantity of clothing. It wasn't discovered until Mr. and Mrs. Wolff arrived a few days ago. We believe that the offer of a good substantial reward would find someone who would be willing to "sneak." Thieves of that type are of the very lowest sort. It's the duty of every good citizen to encourage people to come to Grayling and invest in summer homes. When they do so they have the right to feel that their property is safe during their absence in the winter. There are many fine summer homes in this county on our lakes and streams and they should be protected.

The program for National Hospital day at Mercy Hospital was carried out as planned and was much enjoyed by those present. Although it was a rainy afternoon quite a number of Grayling people took opportunity to visit the Hospital. That part of the program of having photographs taken of children who were born at the hospital was eliminated owing to the weather. During the afternoon delicious refreshments were served by a committee of the Hospital Aid Society. In all it was a pleasant afternoon for the members of the Hospital Aid, the Sisters, nurses and their guests.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATIVE NEWS LETTER

this law going into effect. While this was being corrected a determined effort was made in both houses to attach the referendum clause which had been removed on its first trip through the mill, but these attempts failed miserably and the bill is in the hands of the governor.

The conservation department's fish and game bills finally went through both houses, but so changed and mangled that they could not have been recognized by their authors. A provision which would have compelled the conservation department to spend about $300,000 for game refuges was finally stricken from the game bill, after a bitter fight on the floor of the House.

The Howell bill, which would have required all drivers of automobiles to undergo an examination for a renewal of their drivers' licenses was killed in the transportation committee of the House.

The Cuthbertson bill for the sterilization of mentally incompetent or insane persons was approved by the Senate, where it had been held in committee until it was thought among the dead issues.

Among the more important bills to be passed during the session are: A new election code providing for permanent registration in cities of 5000 or over.

The capital punishment bill. Important amendments to the criminal code.

Strenuous penalties for infringements of the liquor laws.

Establishing a state police radio broadcasting station.

Prohibiting sale and use of fireworks, except by special permit.

The cigarette tax.

Michigan's first budget bill.

Regulation of oil and gas industry.

Re-enactment of the teachers' retirement fund.

Freeing owner of automobile from liability of damages for injury to free passenger.

Amending inheritance tax laws.

Establishing council to study court procedure with a view to simplifying court practice.

Creating state board of aeronautics.

More stringent narcotics restrictions.

Providing $2,000,000 to aid poorer school districts.

Tax commission to study methods of taxation and recommend possible changes to next legislature.

Political booms began to make their appearance during the closing days of the session. Among the many were those for possible candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, state treasurer, attorney general, congress and other important places.

Governor Green remains silent, as to his plans for the future but it is not thought likely he will stand for a third term.

Fred Ming of Cheboygan, the most efficient speaker of the House for many years, is spoken of as a most likely aspirant for gubernatorial honors. He would have many warm supporters from among the members of the legislature. Other possible candidates are Charles DeLand, John S. Haggerty, Wilbur Brucker, and of course Luren Dickinson.

Senator Chas. S. Sink of Ann Arbor is seriously mentioned as a candidate for lieutenant governor. He has had many years of legislative experience in both houses and has many friends in political circles.

Senator Wm. F. Turner of Morley is prominently mentioned as a candidate for state treasurer.

Representative Geo. G. Watson of Cass, who has been a most efficient chairman of the judiciary committee of the House for several years, will very likely be a candidate for attorney general.

Representative Gus Hartman of Marquette is apparently away out in front for the position of speaker of the next House. He is an outstanding member of the House, a hard worker, and has many friends. And these are but a few from among the many.

SCHOOL NOTES

"Schrab and Rustum," very interesting.

We're all enjoying the warm weather but some of the students have already succumbed to spring fever.

The U. S. History class has been having some very heated discussions concerning the administrations of Presidents Roosevelt and Wilson, which was the better of the two and why, their good and bad qualities, and how well they were fitted for the position, and which would have been the better during the World War.

The French class went downstairs and could be heard all over the building, singing their pretty French songs. Well, at least, we enjoyed it. One of the songs sung was "Mémories of France" in French.

Dorothy May has returned to school after several weeks absence. Everyone is glad to see her back again.

Miss Dorr is very much pleased with the typing of some of the second semester typing students. At least one speed test is required each week and very one is trying his best to reach the goal—thirty words per minute. No one has quite reached it yet and not very much more time remains to finish in.

Miss Estee's history classes are required to read the Constitution before finishing the course. When we have finished it we are to go to her and she will quiz us on it. The Constitution seems to be pretty dry reading, but none of the class has ever read it all through so it will be good for us.

Professor Smith of Ypsilanti is at school Friday. Mr. Smith is Science Professor of Michigan State Normal. He gave an interesting talk in the Chemistry classes.

Mr. Hill already has a debate team in preparation for next year, so they can use the summer months to some advantage.

Miss Rothenberger, a former commercial teacher here, was in town over the week end.

The Senior class is putting in many hours of practice on the play which is to be given the 24th of this month.

The Chemistry students are trying hard to finish their books. As the work is not hard this should be an easy and pleasant task to perform. Lab days have been uneventful but the materials are lacking and the students are doing their best. Also the first part of this week was spent in cleaning up the lab. In preparation of our visitor, Mr. Smith of Ypsilanti, who is head of the Physics department of that college.

The English Literature classes are doing very well in their Book Reports, there being only a few who haven't turned them up to date.

We wonder why James and Gordon insist on chewing toothpicks and throwing them around, and how Miss Estee retains her good nature on red letter days and blue Monday.

MICH. PUBLIC SERVICE CO. EMPLOYEES MET AT CHEBOYGAN

Sigwald Hanson, manager, Don Reynolds and Gail Clise of the local branch of the Michigan Public Service Co., attended an "Educational" meeting of the employees of that company held at Cheboygan Tuesday evening. Mr. Hanson was one of the speakers on the program, taking for his theme "Individuality in Service." Others talked on subjects of interest to those present and for the good of the business. O. F. Schumann accompanied the local employees.

The meeting was interesting and inspirational. Mr. E. A. Swanson, district manager and the managers of the several branches, including the cities of Grayling, Gaylord, Boyne City and others, and many of the employees were at the meeting. It was a talk-over affair when everyone felt free to bring up his problems and have them openly discussed. Managers, linemen, salesmen, office employees, bumped elbows intimately. There was a free-and-easy feeling all around and a spirit of loyalty that is certain to rebound to the benefit of the organization. This was not a meeting when plans could be formulated whereby the Michigan Public Service Co. can get more money out of the people. Far from it. Betterment of the service, improved efficiency, economic methods, greater courtesy on the part of employees—all these and many other matters were given serious consideration.

Employees of the Cheboygan branch put on a short skit that was enjoyed by all. It demonstrated how easy it is to provide the home with modern electric comforts without much outlay of money—easy payments.

PRAIRIE CHICKENS COMING TO CRAWFORD AND ROSCOMMON COUNTIES

Lansing, May 13—Interesting information concerning the spread of the prairie chicken in Michigan and the present status of the partridge has been received from Mr. R. S. "Rube" Babbitt, veteran game warden of the conservation department, and one of the oldest conservationists in the state.

Mr. Babbitt says that during the past two years quite a number of prairie chickens have come into Roscommon and Crawford counties and that they seem able to pull through the winter as well if not better than the quail or the ring-necked pheasant. They appear to be more plentiful in Crawford county, numbers having been seen on the meadowlands on the East Branch and the main stream of the AuSable.

"The weather conditions have been very bad this spring during the early part of the partridge nesting season," says Mr. Babbitt. The last of March and the first of April the weather was warm and bright enough to start some of the old birds nesting; but for the past week the weather has been very cold with much snow. He thinks that many eggs from the first nesting will not hatch, but that there still remains a large number of birds in that district that will nest from the latter part of this month until the middle of June. Babbitt reports seeing quite a number of partridge during the winter while engaged in his regular patrol work, and also of hearing many birds drumming in April.

"Rube" Babbitt is optimistic about the general game situation in the north central part of the lower peninsula, he says, "In my time I have seen the partridge become very scarce up in this country on several occasions, but with one or two good nesting seasons they became plentiful again. Game cover and food conditions in this locality are much better for all kinds of game than they were before the merchantable timber was cut." He believes that the recent decline in the number of partridges is due to the fact that in the past seven years there has not been one really good nesting season for these birds.

QUAIL COMING NORTH

Are the quail extending their range northward in Michigan? There are several indications that they are. Last winter several coveys wintered in Manistee county and were noted regularly at feeding stations established for the ring-necked pheasants. Now comes the report that a covey of eighteen birds wintered near Houghton Lake village. This covey was fed by local residents throughout the winter and came through with the loss of only one bird.

The game division of the conservation department would like further reports of the occurrence of the quail or "bob-white" in the central and northern parts of the lower peninsula.

GETTING AHEAD MEANS OVERCOMING ODDS REGARDLESS OF CIRCUMSTANCES

(By S. W. Straus, President American Society for Thrift.)

The writer recently received a letter in which the following statement was made: "I frequently read your words of advice in my home newspaper and have tried to work out some plan of getting ahead but it is simply impossible on my present income with rent and everything being so high."

This quotation bespeaks a state of mind which exists with many. It is doubtful, in fact, if any considerable portion of those who are drifting along from year to year without making provision for the future, do so willfully. They are nearly all victims of their own points of view. Many of them expect at some future time to begin saving money and getting ahead.

The secret of success in thrift is decision. Temporizing and procrastinating mean only loss of time and opportunities.

If you were to study the lives of those great Americans who arose from poverty and obscurity to the eminence of business leadership—such men, for example, as Carnegie, Hill, Cooper, and Wanamaker—you would find that they learned to save in the face of fearful odds. Their earnings were small, the obstacles they had to overcome were tremendous. In their poverty and obscurity they seemed a long way from the heights of success. But they were not discouraged by circumstance. They saved little enough at first, but their small savings grew; their strength of character increased. By overcoming resistance, they became more and more capable.

Herein lies the great lesson of thrift. During the war we had a phrase: "Give till it hurts." That was a fine phrase. In these peace days we can say "Be thrifty till it hurts. Make sacrifices till it hurts. Save money till it hurts." This is the spirit from which comes success. Those who feel they can save nothing simply because their incomes are too small, must revise their methods. There are many things in life that must be done regardless of how hard it may seem. One of these is to spend less than we earn.

FARMER REIMBURSED FOR EXPENSE IN FEEDING HUNDREDS OF DEER

Some time ago Frank Weber, publisher of the Montmorency County Tribune, called attention to the unusual number of deer in that county and to the manner in which William Klein residing in Kust Township had fed hundreds of deer all winter.

Mr. Weber's article secured wide publicity and attracted widespread attention not only in the state but outside the state and he was the recipient of many letters.

Requests were made of the Conservation Department of the state that Mr. Klein be remunerated for his expense in feeding the deer. This request was denied by the Conservation Department. Sportsmen around Hillman, however, raised a fund equal to that asked of the state and presented it to Mr. Klein last week.

NAVY BASEBALL FANS IN CUBA

The cry "batter up," resounding throughout the country these days, finds an echo in Cuba as sailors from the U. S. Scouting Fleet make use of the excellent diamonds at the Naval Base, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, during their stay there. In the intervals between target practices, games intended to develop future fleet champions are played. The fields, ancient flood areas, are absolutely level and the games played would not disgrace professionals, in fact, many big league players of today were developed on the Navy diamonds at Guantanamo.—Navy News.
